A FINE SHOW OF HORSES. THE EXHIBITION A SUCCESS.

MUCH INTEREST IN THE LEAPING OF THE BUNTLES -AWARD OF PRIZES.

He first day of the National Horse Show may be taken as an indication of its fortune it can hardly fail of being a success. Dr. Carmody, the veterinarian, who, in conjunction with Dr. Cattanach, has examined more than 380 horses, said to a Thinung reporter that the present exhibition at the Madison Square Garden was far in excess of any thing of the kind in England. Judging began at 9 a. m., when there was hardly any one in the large building, save the Executive Committee—John G. Hecksher, John D. Cheever, H. H. Hollister, W. F. Wharton, H. J. Ni-holas and Beverley Robinson—and the superintendent, Charles Lincoln. Section A comprised thoroughbreds, and Class 1 was for stallions four years old and over. The first prize of $200 was awarded by Colonel 8. D. Bruce, the judge of this section, to J. R. Keene's Spendthrift, chestunt, foaled in 1876; sire Australian, dam Aerolite by Lexington. Class 9 was for brood mares with foal at foot. The first prize of $100 was awarded to J. R. Keene's Phillis, bay, foaled in 1872; sire Phaeton, out of Lass of Sydney by Knight of St. George. The second prize of $50 was awarded to F. A. Schermerhorn's Spirit, chestuut, aged; sire Australian, dam Springbrook by Lexington. Section B was for Arabs. In the stallion class the first prize of $100 went to J. B. Houston's Leopard, gray, 14.3 high. 11 years, bred by Sultan of Turkey. The second prize of $50 went to U. S. Grant, jr., for Linden Lee, dapper gray, 14.3 high, 8 years, same breeder. Section C was for trotters and the judge was D. L. Herr, of Lexington, Ky. Class 13, the first of this section, was for stallions with get three years old and over. The first prize of $200 went to Edwin Thorne, of Millibrook, Dutchess County, N. Y., for Thorndale, bay, 15,2 high, aged; sire Alexander Abdallah, dam Dolly by Mabrimo Chief. The second prize of $100 went to Elizier Smith, of Lee, Berkshire County, Mass., for Alcantara, bay, 15,3 high, 7 years; sire George Wilkes, dam by Mambrino Patchen. Sir Walter, owned by Henry N. Smith, of this city Henry N. Smith exhibited Goldsmith Maid in the planded.

Henry N. Smith exhibited Goldsmith Maid in the inclosure, but she was not entered for competition. Class 17, for trotting marss, 4 years and over, brought out eight competitors. The first prize of $100 went to W. H. Wilson, of Abdallah Park, Ky., for Lady de Jarnett, a tall bay of perfect form, with an exquisite coat, glossy as silk, a small, beautifully poised head, and a regular therough-bred air. Mr. Wilson drove her several times round the melosure, amid the vigorous applause of those present, but they were not many, for the people were attracted by the riding rather than by the horses, and did not come in large numbers until the afternoon. The second prize of $50 was won by A. A. Freeman, of this city, with Marie S. sire Startle, out of a Black Hawk mare, Lawrence Kip's Lady Griswold, and Smuggler's Daughter, the property of H. S. Russell, of Milton, Mass., were higaly praised.

A. A. Freeman, of this city, with shalle 5, site Startle, out of a Black Hawk mare. Lawrence Kip's Lady Griswold, and Sunggler's Daughter, the property of H. S. Russell, of Milton, Mass., were higaly praised.

This was the morning's business, and there was a hull then in the proceedings until 2 o'clock, when W. G. Powell, of Springboro', Penn., judged the horses of all work. There were few curries in this section. J. H. Dahiman, of this city, g thomorary mention for Tom and Bill, and a first prize of $40 for Lucy, a mare 16.2 high and 7 years old, and of colossal proportions. Then every-body hurried from the inclosure, and left if free for the workmen to put up the hurdles and arrange the leaps for the half-bred hunters of Class 92. This exhibit caused much excitement, and there was a large body of spectators, who were at first frigid, but became warned up by degrees so that they applanded heartily all the good leaping and laughed vigorously at the bad. On the north side of the inclosure there were two four-barred rail, and beyond that a wooden wall. Then in the centre was the water-jump, with an impromptu hedge in front. High temporary railangs of wood were arranged on each side of this to prevent horses swerving. There were eleven entries in this class out of sixteen nominations, but the riders in most instances were grooms or jockeys. W. Rutherford rode his own hunter Henepstead, and was recognized by many of the spectators. Frederick Gebhard entered his chestant gelding Leo, but it was anderstood that it was ridden by T. Hitchcock; E. D. Morgan's Kathleen, I. E. Cowdin's Rachel, Mrs. A. Belmont Purdy's Kingston, and A. Belmont Purdy's Bismarck. Just after the leaping began Mayor Edson appeared and read his speech, which was inaudible to every one save the members of the Executive Committee who stood bareheaded and seemed deeply impressed. Leaping the brook was fatal to several riders, the only real clean water simply being done by Mr. Rutherford on Hempstead, and by a groom on Kathleen. The rails and wall w being followed by a roar of applianse. Then herods around the inclosure and took the water jump from the other end. His horse balked the first time, but he recovered him with a touch of the spur and a cut of the whip, and keeping his head straight, went at it with a rush, and cleared it beautifully. Carroll Livingston was the judge and awarded the first prize of $100 to Hempstead, the second to Leo, and highly commended Kathleen. Leo floundered into the water jump disgracefully and hardly deserved to be ranked before Kathleen.

After the trial of the hunters the inclosure was cleared of its rails and the competing fire horses were led around. Fire Company No. 33 winning the prize, a set of barness. Then came the turn of Class 82—saddle horses—judged by Miguel Aleo of this city. Sixteen horses were brought into the ring for trial: D. B. Lee's Bessie, H. H. Hollister's Brandy, S. Untermeyer's Beauty, Henry E. Howland's Chester, G. C. Clausen's Brilliant, J. H. Harper's Mahogany. F. R. Rives's Westminister, A. E. Ferry's Artist, W. H. Wilson's Commodore, E. Smith's Cuba, H. E. Tremain's Baby Queen, W. R. Ogden's Clavet, W. H. Gunther's Don Carlos, J. H. Eisner's Hattie Brown, and C. L. Rinley's Estes. They first walked, then trotted and then cantered in pairs. Then the judge sent away all but Estes, Don Carlos, Baby Queen, Mahogany, Brandy and Bessie. Their riders were directed to make them go through the performance of shoulder in, shoulder out, wheeling in snort circles, and other methods of showing perfection of breaking to the bit. The riding was admirable, Estes was ridden by Mr. Blassom, who also rode Bessie. Brandy was ridden by C. Layas. The judge gave the first premium to Estes, second to Brilliant, very honorable mention to Mahogany, and honorable mention to Brandy. The verdict was received with loud applause and was considered eminently just. If the prizes had been given for riding Mr. Kinly, Mr. Clausen, Mr. Zayas, and Mr. Blassom would have made something like a dead heat, for they all rode admirably. rode admirably.

In the evening Mr. Miguel also judged one class

In the evening Mr. Miguel also judged one class of the section for ponies No. 86, for stallions four years old and over, and exceeding 14 hands in height. The first prize of $70 was awarded to A. J. Cassatt's Little. Wonder, and the second to James McEnries' Peter. W. H. Henrique's Jim was highly commended. After this came the exercising of hunters over the wooden wall and four sets of rails disposed around the enclosure. The imported "lady riders" made their appearance, but disappointed every one from the badness of their mounts. Miss McIlnish appeared the better, though the less graceful rider of the two. Miss King's horse swerved repeatedly, and at last fell in a heap over the wall jump, turning the wooden affair upside down and giving the rider a severe fall, which prevented her riding for the rest of the evening. Mr. Potter distinguished himself by his graceful riding and good jumping.

A PROPOSED PRODUCE EXCHANGE WIRE.

A largely attended meeting of the Produce Exchange was held yesterday. Reports of the Finance Committee to the effect that a half-million dollars more is required to complete the new building, and of the committee appointed to consider the feasibility of building a telegraph line to Chicago for the sole use of the Exchange and the Chicago Board of Trade, were considered. The latter committee found that the difficulties in securing the right of way for a line from New-York to Chicago were too great, but it secured the refusal of the line of the New-York, Chicago and St. Louis, and of the New-York, West Shore and Buffalo Railroad companies, to be known as the National Telegraph Company, for $1,000,000 in bonds bearing 6 per cent interest to be issued by a company with a paid up cadital of $1,000,000. The line extends from Weehawken to Grand Crossing about eight miles from Chicago, has four wires, and passes through eight cities. As the Produce Exchange is not empowered by its charter to own a telegraph line, the committee proposed the organization of a company with $1,000,000 capital, of which $600,000 should be taken by members of the Exchange and $400,000 by the Chicago Board of Trade.

Charles H. Partridge opposed the proposition and A PROPOSED PRODUCE EXCHANGE WIRE.

A STEAMSHIP IN DANGER.

FIRE DISCOVERED ON THE HEIMDAL. PROMPTLY GOT UNDER CONTROL-EXTENT OF THE

Signals of fire were displayed from the mast-head of the steamship Heimdal of the Carr Line, from Christiansend, when she was about ten miles from the Sandy Hook Light-hip at noon yesterday. This information was quickly sent to the office of the agents and to Castle Garden, and caused considerable anxiety as to the safety of the three cabin and the 303 steerage passengers, most of whom were known to be women and children. Whether the ship was in actual danger, or what was the extent of the fire, could not be ascertained until she should arrive within hailing distance; hence measures to meet any possible emergency were at once taken. Mr. Lembeke, the passenger agent of the line, and Mr. Mareager, the newly-appointed agent of the Thingvalla Line, by which the steamer is owned, went to meet her with tugboats, the former going down on the firehoat Havemeyer. John E. Moore, the immigrant landing agent at Castle Garden, also sent fugs and barges to meet the vessel in the Lower Bay and take off the passengers. When the vessel was met below Quarantine no smoke was seen to be escaping, and it was thought that the fire had been extinguished. There was, however, a strong odor which pervaded the atmosphere and reminded eveybody of brinstone. Captain Johanssen said when the Heimdal was reached that the fire had not been extinguished, and that he did not think it wise to open the hatches until all of the passengers had been landed. The passengers were all huddled on the after-deck, the boats and a raft had been made ready for lowering, and other preparations had been made to abandon the ship if it became necessary. After inspection at Quarantine by the Health Odificer, the Heimdal steamed up as far as Bedloc's Island, where the passengers were all transferred to the barges and taker to Castle Garden, the Havemeyer remaining alongside to render any assistance necessary to extinguish the fire.

Behrend Jounssen, one of the passengers, first discovered smoke coming from the forchold about 5 o'clock on Sunday afternoon, when the DAMAGE NOT KNOWN. Signals of fire were displayed from the mast-head about 200 miles at sea. From the odor of the smoke it was concluded that the fire was among the matches, of which since the duty was removed, large amounts have been brought here from Sweden, As there was also liquors in the same hold considerable fear was felt with regard to the spreading of the fire. The passengers were said to have maintained entire presence of mind when they learned of the fire, with the exception of a sick child, who became frenzied and continued so until after she landed at Castle Garden. She shrieked with fear every time she was moved on her bed, and cried in Scandinavian, "Save me!" The passengers were called up from the steerage and sent on the after deck and into the second-cabin, where they were provided with all the bedding, etc., that could be collected, and made as comfortoble as possible during the night. The boats were provisioned and made ready for lowering at a moment's notice, and the captain constructed a large raff from spars and canvas. In the meantime the steam jet, connect-made ready for lowering at a moments notice, and the captain constructed a large raft from spars and canvas. In the meantime the steam jet, connecting with the forchold to be used in case of fire, was turned on and every hole and crevice by which oxygen could enter was stopped up. The steam jet seemed to subdue the fire, but the smoke continued. The steamer will not go to her pier in Hoboken until it is certain that the fire is entirely extinguished. The passengers were warm in their commendation of the captain's management of the vessel, and the promptness with which the other officers and the crew carried out the orders and attended to the needs and comfort of the passengers.

Captain Johansen said last evening: "We left Christiansend on October 6, with a miscellaneous cargo, in which was included 800 boxes of safetymatches. There were 350 people all told about. On Sunday afternoon, about 550, the fire was discovered. On investigation I found that it had broken out among the matches which were stored on the starboard side of the main hold just forward of the main hatch. The second officer got the steerage passengers and their baggage on deck as soon as possible and steam was turned on in the hold, but the fire gained on us slowly. We started to open the hatch es this morning, but had to put them on again as the fire was singung rapidly. We turned a stream of water into the hold through the venti-matches."

The Heimdal was grounded between Bedloe's and Ellis Islands. She was surrounded in the evening by the fire-boats Zophar Mills, Havemeyer and W. A. Cheney, which were filling her hold with water. When the hatches were taken off, sheets of flame shot up from the hold and it was not until 8. when the latteres were town on such all and shot up from the held and it was not until 8 o'clock that the flames were subdued. At low tide she was left almost completely out of the water and the work of pumping her out was begun. It is probable that she will be floated this morning and taken to be deeper.

The Heindal is a schooner-rigged, screw-propelling vessel, built of iron with six water-tight compartments. She was built in Glasgow last year, but is owned in Copenhagen by the Freja Steam Navigation Company. When the steamship Hekla was lost three months ago the Heindal was chartered to take her place temporarily. Her dimensions are: 257 feet in length, 35 feet beam, 24 2-3 feet depth of hold, and 2,085 tons burthen.

THE ELEVATED RAILROAD ACCIDENT.

THE ELEVATED RAILROAD ACCIDENT.

General Manager Hain yesterday began an official investigation into the accident at Third-ave, and Fitty-mith-st, on Sunday morning, when James Tully, of No. 80 Mulberry-st., Newark, fell from a girder of the elevated railway. Mr. Hain was not at his office during the day, but his private secretary said that no statement was ready for publication. He did not know, he said, the name of any of the witnesses or of the brakeman. A Tribune reporter afterwards found the brakeman on one of the City Hall trains. He had not been summoned by the General Manager. His name is John Fallon, and his address No. 160 East One Hundred and Fifteenth-st. Referring to the accident, he said: "I was between the first and second cars, the gates being about six feet from the girder on which Tully attempted to cross the tracks. I saw him start, but thought him a track-hand in citizen's dress. Before he had gone five feet I saw that he was drunk. I did not then think that he wished to board my train and I gave the signal to start. As the gates passed him he made an attempt to reach them, but never touched them and fell to the street."

At the Presbyterian Hospital where Tully was taken, Superinteradent Wall said that he was severely but not latally injured.

NEWS SO OLD THAT IT IS STALE.

NEWS SO OLD THAT IT IS STALE.

A dispatch printed in The Sun yesterday stated that an Irishman named Peter McEnerney had died recently at Birmingham, Conn., and that since his death it had been discovered unexpectedly that he had left a handsome fortune. It was said that among the surprises was a letter from Fisk & Hatch announcing that the firm held $150,000 in bonds for his account. Mr. Hatch said yesterday that McEnerney died three or four years ago and that the story was, therefore, rather stale news, "I remember him very well," Mr. Hatch said; "he was an intelligent Irishman, who used to come in here occasionally to make purchases. At the time of his death we had some securities which we had hought for him, but I do not now remember the amount. The widow with the administrator of the estate came on here, and when we were satisfied that they were the legal representatives of McEnerney we delivered the securities to them. This was so long ago, however, that I do not remember the details. I think the man kept a country store, for I recall him as having a bundle of whips or something of that kind whenever he came here. He showed excellent judgment in all his transactions with us."

RESISTING THE DEMANDS OF WORKMEN.

Contractor Brien, who has charge of the plumbingwork on the row of flat houses in course of crection in Seventy-third-st., between Eighth and Ninth aves, reiterated his refusal to discharge the seven men who had made themselves obnoxious to the union in the strike of last summer, and, in consequence, Delegate Farrell, of the Plumbers' Union, ordered the union plumbers and gashitters to stop work yesterday morning. They will return to work only in case the seven men square themselves with the union by paying the lines imposed on them, or are discharged.

A contenuce was held yesterday between the Strike Committee of the Cigarinakers' Progressive Union and Josephs & Co. The strike now going on in the shop was aliseussed, and an effort was made on the part of the firm to effect a compromise. The men, however, insist on their full demands and they anticipate an early settlement on that basis.

The work of organizing the shop-tailors is going on. In several of the arge shops the organization is nearly strong enough, it is thought, to warrant asking in advance in pay, and the probabilities are that such demand will be made within a tew days.

strike will result. The strike of the men in Harris RESISTING THE DEMANDS OF WORKMEN.

the Exchange and $400,000 by the Chicago Board of Trade.

Charles H. Partridge opposed the proposition and Mr. Burrows proposed to employ experts to examine the property, masmuch as he did not think it worth anything like the amount asked, and he wanted, he said, "the Exchange protected from a scheme such as the Vanderbilts were swindled into by the purchase of the Nicked Plate road." A committee of five was appointed to open books of subscription, and the Unicago Board of Trade will be requested to take similar action.

The Finance Committee reported that the estimate of amounts required to complete the new Exchange was $553,819.25. Mr. McGee offered resolutions embodying the views of the committee and requesting the Board of Managers to authorize the comple-

PYÆMIA

Is the most virulent form of blood-polson-ing. Less speedily fatal, but not less cer-tainty so, is the vittation of the blood of which the first symptoms are Pimples, Sties, Bolls, and Cutaneous Erup-tions. When the taint of Scrofula gives warning of its presence by such indications, no time should be lost in using AYER'S SARSAPARILLA, the only perfect and reli-sble medicine for the purification of the blood.

SCROFULA

Is a foul corruption in the blood that rots out all the machinery of life. Nothing will eradicate it from the system and pre-vent its transmission to offspring but AYER'S SARSAPARILLA. This prepara-tion is also the only one that will cleanso the blood of Mercurial poison and the taint of Contagious Diseases. Impover-ished blood is productive of
